

PARTNER PROPOSAL

Knock

Knock on the right door.

Off-campus and lateral searches are a numbers game that students lose

Portals reward volume, not fit.

Students send hundreds of applications into systems that filter on keywords. Most get no reply at all.

Hiring still runs on people.

A hiring manager remembers the person who spoke to them, not the PDF that arrived with four hundred others.

Illustration, not data

Referrals and warm conversations already open doors cold applications cannot

Cold application

Sent to a portal

- Read by a filter before a person
- Judged on keywords, without context
- One of hundreds in the same queue
- Waits, with no one to follow up with

Warm conversation

Started with a person

- Read by someone who chose to reply
- Carries context and common ground
- Someone inside can speak for you
- Moves naturally to a referral or interview

Knock makes the warm route repeatable for every student, not only the well-connected ones.

Knock turns a job search into a handful of real conversations, in four steps

The student approves every message. It is sent from their own LinkedIn, in their own name.

A good first message is short, specific and easy to answer

To: Rahul

Product, Zepto · previously Flipkart

Hey Rahul, saw you moved from Flipkart into product at Zepto. I'm making a similar jump from brand management. Curious, what was the biggest adjustment for you?

Example message · approved by the student, sent from their account

Specific

It names a real move Rahul made. He knows it was written for him.

Shared

The student is making a similar jump, so there is a genuine reason to talk.

Easy to answer

One curious question, no ask. The referral comes later, if it fits.

Built to protect your batch's reputation, not to flood inboxes

60

people a week, chosen by hand for each student

A deliberate ceiling, not a target to beat.

Every message is personal

Written for one person, from real research. No templates sent in bulk.

Sent from their own account

Their name, their LinkedIn, their approval on every message.

Well under LinkedIn's limits

A steady, human pace that keeps the account in good standing.

Conversation first, ask later

We earn the reply before anyone asks for a referral.

What we ask

One announcement

A single message to the batch introducing Knock.

One feedback call

A candid conversation after the pilot.

We will measure one honest number: interviews per 100 people contacted

Interviews

100 people contacted

The metric

Per student

Each pilot student sees their own number, alongside replies and referrals along the way.

In aggregate

The club receives the combined result for the pilot group, ready to share with the batch.

No promises yet

We have no customers yet, so we will not quote a number. The pilot will give us a real one.

The pilot runs three weeks, from kickoff to results

- The club picks 5 students
- One call each to set targets and roles
- We agree the shortlist of companies

- We find and research the right people
- Students approve every first message
- We guide each reply as it comes in

- Interviews per 100 people contacted
- A shareable summary for the club
- A feedback call to decide next steps

NEXT STEP

Pick 5 students for the free pilot

We start the week you choose them.
