01 THE PROBLEM

Job portals turn a search into hundreds of applications and very few replies

01 Off-campus and lateral searches run through portals.

The same listing reaches thousands of people at once.

02 Each application joins a pile that is barely skimmed.

Keywords decide before any person does.

03 Most get no reply, however strong the profile.

Silence teaches nothing, so students simply apply more.

People hire people.

Illustrative. Each mark is an application; brass marks are the ones that got a reply.

Referrals and warm conversations already beat cold applications

Cold application

What most students do

- Lands in a queue with everyone else
- Judged on keywords and a one-page CV
- No one inside is invested in you
- Silence is the usual answer

Warm conversation

What already works

- Starts with a real person on the team
- Judged on the whole story, not a keyword
- Someone inside can vouch for you
- Leads naturally to referrals and interviews

Every placement team knows this. The hard part is doing it well, for every student, without spamming anyone.

Knock turns a target list into real conversations in four steps

01

You pick the targets

Choose target companies and roles. We agree the brief together.

02

We find the right people

Hiring managers, team members, alumni and senior people who can introduce.

03

We write each message

Personal to each person, built on something genuinely shared.

04

We guide every reply

From the first answer to a referral or an interview, step by step.

You approve every message. It goes out from your own LinkedIn.

One short, personal note that is easy to answer

To Rahul, Product at Zepto

From the student's own LinkedIn, after their approval

Hey Rahul, saw you moved from Flipkart into product at Zepto. I'm making a similar jump from brand management. Curious, what was the biggest adjustment for you?

A real, specific reason

It names his actual move, so it could only have been written to Rahul.

Honest about who you are

A peer making the same jump. No pitch and no CV attached.

Easy to answer

One open question about his experience. The ask comes later.

Three sentences. One shared reason to talk. No ask in the first message.

Built to protect your batch's reputation, not to blast inboxes

60

hand-picked people per student, per week

Chosen one by one, never scraped in bulk.

Every message is personal

Written for one person. No templates and no mail merge.

Sent from their own account

Their name, their profile, their approval every time.

Well under LinkedIn's limits

A deliberate pace that keeps every account in good standing.

Conversation first, ask later

We earn a reply before anyone mentions a referral.

Your club gets a lot. We ask for very little.

What your club gets

- 1 Founding price for every member
Locked in for your students and alumni.
- 2 A free pilot for 5 students you choose
Run end to end at no cost.
- 3 A results summary you can share
Written for your batch and your placement team.
- 4 A co-hosted session on outbound job search
Practical, open to the whole batch.

What Knock asks

- 1 One announcement to the batch
In your words, on your channel.
- 2 A feedback call after the pilot
Thirty minutes, honest notes.

That is all. No exclusivity, no fees, no data shared without consent.

One honest metric: interviews per 100 people contacted

Interviews

100 people contacted

Per student

Each pilot student sees their own number, and which messages and people led to it.

In aggregate

Your club gets the combined view across the pilot group, ready to share.

No promised numbers. We are new, so the pilot sets the baseline and we report it as it is.

A three-week pilot with a clear review at the end

NEXT STEP

Pick 5 students for the free pilot

Choose them, and we start the week that suits your calendar. The club and the students pay nothing for the pilot.
