Partner proposal for <Club name>

A private outbound service for your students and alumni.

Off-campus and lateral searches run through portals, and portals rarely answer back.

Hundreds of applications. A handful of replies.

A portal is a queue, not a person. But hiring decisions are still made by people. People hire people.

Referrals and warm conversations get read. Cold applications get filtered.

A COLD APPLICATION

- Lands in a queue
- Judged on keywords
- No one vouches for you

A WARM CONVERSATION

- + Lands with a person
- + Judged on context and fit
- + Can turn into a referral

— Your seniors already know this. The hard part is doing it well, for every target, without spamming.

Knock is a private career concierge, not another AI job tool.

WHAT KNOCK IS

A person-led outbound service, with good tools behind the team

Real research on every person we suggest you contact

Messages you approve, sent from your own LinkedIn

Guidance on every reply, until it becomes a referral or interview

WHAT KNOCK IS NOT

~~A bot that mass-messages recruiters~~

~~Another job board or portal~~

~~A resume rewriter~~

~~A promise of an offer~~

Four steps from a target list to a real conversation.

1

YOU

Pick target
companies and roles

A short list of where you actually want to work.

2

WE

Find the right people

Hiring managers, team
members, alumni and seniors who can introduce.

3

WE

Write a personal
first message

One for each person, built on something genuinely shared.

4

WE, WITH YOU

Guide every reply

Until the conversation becomes a referral or an interview.

✓ You approve every message before it goes. Nothing is sent without you.

A good first message asks for a conversation, not a job.

R

Rahul

Product, Zepto. Previously Flipkart

DRAFT FOR APPROVAL

Hey Rahul, saw you moved from Flipkart into product at Zepto. ¹ I'm making a similar jump from brand management. ² Curious, what was the biggest adjustment for you? ³

Sent from the student's own LinkedIn

Illustrative example

- 1

A real, specific shared path

Found through research on Rahul, not guessed.
- 2

Honest about the student's own move

Gives Rahul a reason to care, in one line.
- 3

An easy question, no ask yet

Starts a conversation. The referral comes later, if it fits.

Built to protect your batch's reputation, not spend it.

60

hand-picked people per week, per student.

A deliberate ceiling. Fewer, better conversations.

i. Every message is personal

Written for one person. No templates, no blasts.

ii. Sent from the student's own account

Their name, their voice, their approval.

iii. Well under LinkedIn's limits

Paced so no account looks or acts like a bot.

iv. Conversation first, the ask later

Nobody gets a referral request from a stranger.

What your club gets, and the two things we ask in return.

<CLUB NAME> GETS

Founding price for members

For students and alumni of the club.

A results summary to share

Honest numbers from the pilot, yours to use.

A free pilot for 5 students

Chosen by the club, at no cost.

A co-hosted session

On running an outbound job search well.

KNOCK ASKS FOR

One
Announcement to the batch

Once, in the club's own words.

Two
A feedback call after the pilot

Thirty minutes on what to improve.

No exclusivity, no revenue share, no lock-in. If the pilot does not earn it, the partnership ends there.

One number, reported honestly: interviews per 100 people contacted.

$$\frac{\text{Interviews}}{\text{People contacted}} \times 100$$

We are new, so we will not promise a number. The pilot is how we find out, together, and you see the result before anyone else.

PER STUDENT

Each pilot student's own result

Shared privately with that student.

IN AGGREGATE

One summary for the club

Anonymised, ready to share with the batch.

A three-week pilot, from kickoff to results.

12 NEXT STEP —

Pick 5 students for the free pilot.
